*Electives may include no more than 9 credits from fields other than history. Only 9 credits may be taken prior to acceptance into the program, and only 9 may be transferred in from another program. Electives may include a total of no more than 12 credits with the following numbers: 590, 594-598, 696-697 (i.e. most workshops, internships, readings & conf., independent studies; Hist. 598 courses taken prior to F09 are exempted from the above restriction.) Note: students may exceed these limitations if they want to take extra courses for personal enrichment; they may not be used toward the degree, however. FYI: Hist. 580, 581, 582 classes are usually small grad sections combined with UG classes; Hist. 585 is a grad-only seminar. We highly recommend the 585 seminars for that reason.

Foreign Language – one year college-level sequence (ASL excluded) or “tool” classes (i.e. statistics, GIS, web design, digital skills, documentary film production, etc.). This is required, although credits are not counted toward MAHR; college language sequence taken during BA can fulfill requirement)

Other steps toward graduation (for full-time students aiming to graduate in two-years; all students need to complete the steps below in this general order in no later than seven years):

During first semester

Done?

Find an advisor, or make your initially assigned advisor your “official” permanent one
Complete Program Development Form with advisor (form on hist. dept. website)
Zero in on a general area of research for possible project work

During second semester	Done?
Create project “advisory” committee in consultation w/ advisor (form on grad. college site)
Find a project topic in consultation with advisor
Write and defend your project proposal (recommended, not required, during 2nd semester); complete the form “Application for Grad Thesis/Project” (on history dept. website)

During summer	Done?
Conduct project research and/or do internship (recommended, not required, during summer)

During Third semester	Done?
Complete candidacy form (grad college website)—deadline is usually a month into the semester prior to the one in which you hope to graduate
Complete application for graduation (on Broncoweb)—deadline is usually at beginning of the semester in which you hope to graduate.

During Fourth semester	Done?
Register for at least 1 project credit (students must be registered for at least 1 project credit during the semester in which they hope to graduate).
Be sure that application for graduation is done by the start of the semester.
Complete project with input on drafts from advisor (first), then committee members (note: give readers 14 days minimum to read each draft)
Present/defend project (deadlines are usually mid. Nov. and mid April)

Project completion steps	Done?
1. Consult the Grad College’s “thesis manual” on project/thesis formatting. See their website.
2. Final project draft (version to be defended) must be displayed publicly in dept. office at least 10 business days prior to the defense. Include an abstract. Contact Katie Chesbo (Hist. admin. asst.) to publicize defense within dept. and grad college, and to set day/time.
3. Project committee must sign signature pages (i.e. “Defense Approval” form; find on grad college website) confirming successful defense. Bring signature pages printed on thesis paper to the defense. (Both will go into your file in hist. dept., not to grad college.)
5. Student must have advisor sign “Final Reading Approval” form & give to Katie for filing in history dept. file. Give signed FERPA release to grad college. Give signed “ScholarWorks Authorization Form” to Michelle Armstrong in library Rm. 216. Submit 1 final revised copy of project to Katie for department binding. Ask advisor if more are desired. No final copy goes to grad college. Advisor changes project credit grade from IP to P.
6. Student may submit final copy of project on CD, thumbdrive, or via email to Michelle Armstrong (michellearmstrong1@boisestate.edu) for uploading to “ScholarWorks.”

Note: Students who miss grad college deadlines related to the project run the risk of having their desired graduation date pushed into the following semester. Request: Please give the history department’s admin. staff a copy of all signed forms for your file, or give them your original signed forms so that they can make a copy, and then forward your original to the grad college. See Graduate Handbook on History Dept. website for more detailed information on all of the above.
